The biennial Childhood Obesity Conference is the nation's largest, most influential collaboration of professionals dedicated to combating pediatric obesity.

Childhood obesity is a growing and costly epidemic that affects families, schools, communities and the entire health care system. The 2013 Conference will showcase the latest research, evidence-based best practices and policy/ environmental change strategies. Presentations will focus on health care approaches to prevention, community-based solutions, early childhood education, schools and after school programs, marketing to kids, food systems, and the built environment, land use and transportation. Nearly 2,000 attendees from across the country are expected to attend in 2013, so save the date today!
